Burmese Leadership Development Workshop

Saturday, June 6, 2009

International Service Center (ISC)
21 South River Street, Harrisburg, PA 17101

(Sponsored by Lutheran Children and Family Services of Lancaster)

The objectives of the workshop are:

A) To assist participants in re-assessing and identifying their roles as community leaders.

B) To familiarize participants with various community leadership styles as a framework for program planning, development, and implementation.

C) To provide an opportunity for Burmese community leaders to network and share experiences, common interests and concerns.
Fourteen Burmese community leaders representing Erie, Pittsburgh, Lancaster, and Philadelphia regions attended the workshop.

The ISC staff, including Truong N. Phuong, Tuan Bui and Jessica D. Thomas conducted the workshop, which consist of the following components:

“Leadership As Perceived By Community Leaders”
“Roles of MAA Leader As Perceived By Their Community”

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initiate Tactical Actions” and “Formulate Personal Action Plans”.

After a Fellowship Lunch contributed by the Lutheran Children and Family Services of Philadelphia, the participants through an informal group work process were asked to “Prioritize A Practical Vision”, “Identify Blocks, Obstacles & Contradictions”, “Explore New Strategic Directions”, “Initi